Val-Dieu

abbey beer from Aubel - Ardennes

Once upon a time...

A beer that will test the time test.

The Cistercian abbey "Notre-Dame du Val-Dieu" was founded in 1216 by monks from Hocht, near Maastricht.

Legend has it that the uninhabited valley was so hostile that the locals nicknamed it "Devil's Valley". The monks settled there and renamed it "Valley of God", which later gave the name of the abbey of Val-Dieu.

The Abbaye du Val-Dieu is the only Belgian abbey to survive the French Revolution. The Christian community of Val-Dieu still occupies the property and is united with the Cistercian Order.
